

Mick's Quiz of the Week Number 13

1. When did George Bush play guitar with Joe Cocker?
2. What was the first name of Pete Stringfellow's brother?
3. Which successful Sheffield band are tax exiles in Dublin?
4. Which comedian missed several performances of "Time and Time Again" at the Crucible, preferring to play in a charity competition?
5. Tony Christie had two 1971 hit records containing the names of American cities in their titles. What were they?
6. Which Sheffield born rockstar is a qualified fencing instructor?
7. The singer of which group appeared on Top of the Pops and The Old Grey Whistle Test in 1986 wearing a Sheffield United anorak?
8. In what year was the Leadmill opened?
9. What is Joe Cocker's real name?
10. Which Sylvester Stallone film about early American Trade Unions used background shots of Sheffield Steel Mills?
11. Which Billy Preston song did Joe Cocker dedicate to his mother, Madge, looking down from the balcony at the Lyceum in 1983?
12. Which local comedian catchphrase "Eeh buy gum im daft" played the last night of the Empire 1959?
13. Under which name were the Heartdrops, who played a gig with the Sexpistols at the Black Swan, to become famous?
14. Who is David Holgate better known as?
15. What seating arrangement did Buddy Holly find upsetting during his performance at the City Hall March 1958?
16. Which internationally famous local band were named after 2 characters from the film Tin Tin?
17. Which would be future Prime Minister appeared at the opening night of the Black Cat Club?
18. Which unusual prop at the Esquire Club gave Dave Berry the idea for his unique style?
19. What Fiesta connection links The Shadows and The Rocking Berries?

For Answers, apply to the Bulgarian Embassy or

SCROLL
DOWN

Mick's Answers - Week Number 13

1. At a President's Inaugural Concert in Washington DC in 1989 when Bush played the guitar.
2. Geoffrey.
3. Def Leopard.
4. Eric Sykes.
5. Is this the way to Amarillo and Las Vegas.
6. Bruce Dickinson of Iron Maiden.
7. Paul Heaton of the Housemartins.
8. 1982.
9. John Robert Cocker.
10. Fist.
11. You Are So Beautiful.
12. Albert Modley.
13. The Clash.
14. Dave Berry.
15. The Platform seats behind the stage.
16. The Thompson Twins.
17. Screaming Lord Sutch.
18. The central pillar support in the middle of the Esquire stage where Dave Berry used to hide behind.
19. The Shadows opened the Club in 1970 and the Rocking Berries were the last act before it shut in 1980.